MISCEGENATION.

Important Beginning of a Movement Against It.

One of the Prolific Causes of Southern Race Trouble.

New Orleans Paper Takes a Strong Stand.

TO BREAK UP GREAT EVIL.

(New Orleans Times-Democrat.)

During the past winter the Times-Democrat called attention to a number of articles to the evils of the miscegenation between whites and blacks prevailing in some parts of the South, and urged that action be taken to break up a practice that is one of the most prolific causes of race trouble. Southern statesmen have appreciated this fact, but they have shown in many instances a lamentable weakness in dealing with this feature of the race problem. Every Southern State, for instance, prohibits the marriage between whites and negroes, but only a few of them have had the courage to go a step further, like Mississippi, and to make miscegenation, illicit relations between the races, a crime, although it leads to even more difficulties than the intermarriages. As long as miscegenation is allowed it establishes, the Times-Democrat pointed out, relations between the races degrading to the whites, spreading false ideas among the negroes and breeding up a race of half-breeds who have proved a nuisance, if not a danger, in every land where they have existed. Nearly every serious trouble between the races is connected in some way with the evil of miscegenation.

Our warning, while it produced some effect, did not accomplish all we hoped for. What we said was conceded by all, and on this point there is apparently no difference of opinion. The difficulty lies in securing the necessary legislation to stop miscegenation by making it a crime. When a bill to that effect came before the Louisiana Legislature not a member would say a word against it, and apparently there was no opposition; yet none the less the bill died, being successfully but mysteriously pigeon-holed, pocketed and delayed, as is the practice with measures which the people want, but which the legislative leaders and luminaries silently and secretly are opposed to without daring to show their opposition.

A murder recently committed in West Feliciana, due to miscegenation, has stirred that parish to the uttermost and has started a campaign of morality and decency certain to succeed, and which, we hope, will spread to other portions of the State and force the Legislature to do what it should have done long ago—put an end to miscegenation and break up the disreputable negro establishments in our towns that are corrupting the youth of the State and generating and encouraging crime.

The murder which so stirred West Feliciana occurred at the house of a negro woman in that parish, the victim being a young white man of good family, murdered by another young white man who lived with the negroes. The investigation which the crime led to disclosed the fact that this place was only one of many in the parish, and the young man who did the killing and the young man who was killed were both following the practices that had become very common.

It was thought necessary to call the people together to consider the situation and see what steps should be taken to break up what was recognized to be a great evil and a great danger to the community. This meeting was outspoken in its language. The chairman insisted that the parish should take some action—and the State also looking to the preservation of the purity of the white race, and the prevention of Amalgamation between the races by illicit intercourse, as well as by forbidding marriage. He pointed out the great danger to the State, and to the whole South, from the horde of mulatto children growing up, and predicted that if something was not done to stop it immediately that a day of fearful reckoning would come. He also urged that it was every man's duty to do what he could to keep his State and town morally pure, and to assist the authorities in their efforts to preserve morality, and that it was the duty of the meeting by expression of sympathy and by suggestions of help and advice to strengthen the hands of the officials, and to appeal to all legislative bodies, parochial, municipal and State, to grant more power to their executive officers by ordinances and statutes supplying any deficiencies in the present laws.

A number of speeches were made counseling restraint, and urging that whatever was done should be done peaceably under the law, and not violently and by a mob; and it was suggested that the State Legislature be memorialized to pass a law that will prevent white men from living in condescension with negro women, and recommending that the town councils and the police jury of the parish be at once petitioned and recommended to pass such additional ordinances as may be necessary to more thoroughly regulate and control disreputable houses and suppress concubinage.

A committee was appointed to draw up a petition to the Louisiana Legislature, embracing this idea, as well as to correspond with the police juries of the other parishes to get their aid and co-operation in the war it is proposed to wage against miscegenation which committee was made a permanent one to keep hammering away until the desired law was passed.

In the meanwhile, however, some good is expected to be done by the passage of more severe ordinances dealing with the problem and the more rigid enforcement of the vagrancy laws.

It is quite evident from the tone of the speeches that the movement against miscegenation is going to be successful. It will be unfortunate if it does not spread throughout the entire South.

W. S. Lloyd's Unusual Offer.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said W. S. Lloyd to an Advocate man who had dropped into his store, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis."

"The Dr. Howard Company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes me to sell their regular fifty-cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and, although I have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

"I am still selling the specific at half price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money."

Another dark page has been written in Kentucky's history by the acquittal at Lexington of James Hargis charged with complicity in the murder of James Cockrill. That decision does not change our opinion of his guilt. Our state has been disgraced by the succession of crimes and by the failure to convict the men who evidently planned them. How long, O how long!

TEN THOUSANDS of gallons of Green Seal Paint sold every year merely attests its worthiness, as a paint for all practical purposes. Thomas Kennedy.

ALLIANCE BETWEEN ENGLAND AND SPAIN.

How it Could be Arranged and What it Would Mean.

(London "Times.")

If the statement made in a reputable Spanish newspaper as to the outcome of the King's Cartagena visit is correct an international understanding of a very important and valuable character has been carried through. It is stated that Spain and Great Britain are agreed to preserve the peace of the Mediterranean, which by the geographical position of Gibraltar and Gota, facing each other across the Straits, they are able to do by closing the entrance at any time to war vessels. It is also declared that the reconstruction of the Spanish Navy, which would have been necessary in any case apart from the American War by the vessels of the fleet becoming obsolete, is to be carried out by British architects and engineers, partly in organized shipyards in Spain and partly in England. Ferrol, Gota and Cartagena are to be the fortified basis of a modern fleet of six powerful battleships and as many modern cruisers capable in armament of meeting the latest type of war vessels. The provisions of the necessary funds is to be made easier by British credit.

Such an arrangement may not have been concluded in all its details, but there are several considerations that tend to confirm the statements of the Spanish press in some measure. Undoubtedly British agents have been in Spain negotiating for a great scheme of naval construction, and it seems a settled matter that they will be entrusted with the creation of the new Spanish Navy. If the credit of England is applied to carrying through the financial side of this enterprise Spain may be spared a good deal of difficulty and suspense without any loss to ourselves. Spain has made great progress in prosperity since she was relieved of the burdens of her revolted colonies, and her real resources are probably in advance of her position in the financial world, where the memory of past losses may remain to impair Spanish credit just as the past servility of Russia in paying interest has tended to keep Russian funds higher than a sound estimate might place them.

The rumors as to the other provisions of the supposed agreement, placing the combined land and sea forces of the two nations at the service of either, are probably exaggerated, and it is a pity that they have been put in circulation, as they will only confirm the German press in its attitude of nervous and hostile suspicion. Even if the wildest assertions are true about the Anglo-Spanish entente, such an alliance could be no danger to Germany. German aggression could not in any case have any effect in the Mediterranean unless France and England were unable or unwilling to oppose it, and if France could not face Germany, still less could Spain. But the most innocent agreement made by England with any other nation is a grievance to one important section of German politicians and pressmen. There is every sign of one of those campaigns of suspicion and hatred which have in modern times preceded an attack by Prussia on a neighbor. The political maxim, odisse quoniam laesus sis, has been practiced with much perfection since the day when Frederick the Great raked up misty pretexts for his treacherous seizure of Silesia. The real cause of his aggression then—the fact that Prussia's prestige and

WHAT SHALL WE DO ON SUNDAY?

The Northern General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church adopted quite stringent resolutions in regard to the observance of the Sabbath. The Sunday newspaper is disapproved, funerals on Sunday are not approved. We would like for our Presbyterian brethren to indicate in what way they think the ordinary man, woman or family ought to spend the Sabbath day. Lexington Gazette.

No doubt such information will be furnished. Improvement will come when people quit reading Sunday papers. When they quit, editors will soon cease to publish such papers. Men and women who are Christians should not spend the Lord's day reading the usual Sunday secular papers.

REPROACHFUL.

We clip from Lexington Leader of May 16:

"The election of 1905 in Louisville, in which Paul Barth was declared Mayor, the minor officers being given to his supporters, was characterized by more wanton and infamous thievery and corruption than ever occurred in this State before. Aided and abetted by the Grainger administration then in power, the Barth party resorted to every conceivable device of infamy which made it possible for hired thugs, ex-convicts, and paroled jail-birds to steal an election. In truth, the contest for offices was not between Democrats and Republicans but was between the coalition of the best elements of both parties on the one side and the worst element of both parties on the other."

We regret to know that in this election there was great dishonesty. Every Democrat who advocates fairness, honesty and honor in elections should be glad to see all those who had stolen offices completely side-tracked. Again we say a man who steals a vote is a thief.

Every family should have it. Sold by Thomas Kennedy for six and a half.

PAYING THE COST.

Losers in Louisville Contests Worried.

The payment of the costs in the Louisville contest cases will be a heavy burden on the ousted officials and the manner of their collection is exciting discussion. Some ventured the assertion that all those whose offices were contested will have to pay an equal share of the costs provided the costs can be made against them.

"The court will issue a mandate against them," suggests one official, "and the costs will be equally proportioned. If a man refuses to pay his share of the costs and has property, this property will be levied upon. If a man has no property a new appointment of costs will be made and the remaining men will have to make up the deficiency."

Another version is that the Candidates will make a pool, each man contributing according to his means and the salary attached to his office or position.

The court costs attached to the contest cases are variously estimated. The majority of those about City Hall estimate the costs at $12,000 or $15,000.

The Judge of the Police Court.

The Governor will appoint as Judge of the Louisville Police Court, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge McCune.

The Judge of this court is a member, one of three, of the Tax Commission.

This board licenses fifty saloons that should be closed, and then the victims of these saloons come before this bench for sentence.

Sentence the lawless saloons! Break the power of the saloon element and the lawless political element by appointing as Judge of the Police Court some man who holds his highest obligation to the law; some man who has no alliance, association or sympathy which will paralyze his action when it is raised to punish gambling, to stop opium games and close lawless saloons. Evening Post.

W. Rogers Clay, of Lexington, has been suggested as Judge of Appeals Commissioner to succeed Judge D. Carroll, it being suggested by attorneys that the court needs the commissioner in spite of the recent addition to the personnel of this court.

All the Republicans of Louisville determined to have harmony in the party, but most of them seem to realize they must fight for it.

The Committee on Education has been asked by Mrs. C. P. Barnes, Chairman of the Educational Committee of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, to give it an opportunity to present the plan of work of that Committee for school betterment, especially in the rural districts.

This request should be granted. School betterment is always needed and Kentucky should keep up with and have advantage of all beneficial methods.

If the Democrats of Louisville would have of their very best men to supply the deposed officials, men who could and would be correct in the discharge of their official duties, they should show their interest by pulling themselves together, agreeing on the proper men and then present their names to the Governor. Good citizens will do this.

DAVID HOWELL, Cashier.

IT IS THIS WAY.

The publication which follows shows how determined business men make things go. It is organization, money, push, judgment and determination. We are in need of these essentials. It has its beginning with a few who enlist the influence and powers of others until the entire city is permeated with a spirit of enterprise. "Louisville's Commercial Club had an increase of 724 in membership for the year ending May 13th with total receipts $13,042.25." This club has done much for Louisville's material growth and what such an organization has done for her, with a live united effort, considering size of city and advantages, a flattering comparison could be made here. With recent demonstrations we are persuaded that limits to prosperity are hard to find when men of determination and wisdom lay themselves out to bring things to pass. In this connection we want to ask that our people organize a Commercial Club and that we by ourselves out for hard work.

In commenting on the article of the Lexington Herald, which was published in another column, the Sun-Sentinel, Republican, says: "The Herald has a large circulation in this city and county. The most ardent supporters of the Herald have been Republicans and liberal Democrats. It is evident from this editorial that the Herald will not care for this kind of support in the future. We try to keep the columns of the Sun-Sentinel clean, and print this only by the request of another gentleman, some of whom are inclined to subscribe for the Herald. To answer it in kind would require language that we don't use in print."

In the first paragraph it does not require an adept analyst to detect the spirit of boycotting and of merely visible a desire to do nothing. Put on your breaks, Bro. Perry. You had thought the Herald would be with you, didn't you? Disappointment does make some folks backslide.

For a Republican to speak stinging or to any other degree of political steals appears very much out of joint when we look back at the national steal in which not individuals but the Republican party participated and stole the presidency from Samuel D. Tilden. Stealing is stealing whether a Republican or Democrat is the thief.

Senator G. W. Shelton, of Somerset, has introduced the Public Policy and Legislation Committee of the Louisville Commercial Club in a suggestion that an attempt be made to secure an amendment to the Constitution which will change the manner of voting bonds for road improvement by counties.

See Facts and Observations on the Louisville situation, public roads, enforcement of law, evading a wrong done to a young woman, Hazel Green Academy, 1905.

FACTS AND OBSERVATIONS

No Excuse For Mobs. Running Out Violators of Law.

The writer left Winchester on Wednesday morning for the L. & E. and O. & K. territory. On train we met Mrs. Hagerman and Mrs. Bledsoe, of Louisville, en route to Hazel Green to attend closing exercises of the academy. From the rear of the L. & E. train the writer showed them the sights of river, crag and dale and other things too numerous to mention. The writer continued to Canal City, and spent night at Caney.

There is great activity in shipment of ties, bark and lumber over these roads. Since the suspension of the road from Canal City through Caney in January there has been much delay or inconvenience in delivering the products. Every man who will work and teams are in big demand at good wages. Railroad ties which four years ago sold at 22¢ to 25¢ are now selling at 47¢ to 50¢. Tan bark which sold at $4.00 per cord now brings $12.75. So great is the demand for lumber that purchasers take it fresh from the saw, ship to cities and put through quick process of seasoning. There is but little coal stocked at Canal City. Money is plentiful and everything is on the go.

So far as the "peace and dignity of the Commonwealth" is concerned we hear very favorable reports from this section of Morgan and Wolfe. Officers who have regard for their oaths have been looking after things. The juries, too, have been executing the law and instead of shielding and acquitting offenders have been convicting.

County Judge Center, of Wolfe, visited the region round about Lee City and took such action as caused at least a temporary suspension of illegal selling of whiskey. Hurray for the Judge! Perhaps some people will say he was meddling with other men's affairs and ought to have stayed at the County Seat. He did not in that way wink at lawlessness or stand in with the whiskey element. Every citizen who knows that law is being violated should use his best judgment in correcting the evil. We believe a brighter era has begun.

On this trip the writer has read and meditated about the scandalous political affairs in Louisville which the Court of Appeals so deservedly rebuked. The Court has rendered valuable service to all political parties in Kentucky. Judging from what we have heard we do not hesitate to say the Democratic administration of Louisville should be shattered. They have shown themselves unworthy to control the interests of the city. If in any other city, controlled by Republicans, such disgraceful practices are resorted to, that city should pass into other hands. The deposed Democratic officials should take their medicine. We do not mean to place the same degree of guilt and criminality upon every official. No doubt some good ones have been caught in bad company. We suggest that Gov. Beckham appoint some Democrats, some Republicans, some Fusionists, all clean, honest, honorable men, who may be expected to save the city from such disgrace as came in 1905.

Paris Rose, of Lee City, sold his farm, 150 acres, for $2,500 to his father, Allison Rose and bought of J. W. Taulbee, of Daysboro, his 96-acre farm for $1,000. Taulbee will move to the Capt. Cope farm on Frozen Creek.

Alex. Rose, aged 19 years, son of Allison Rose, last week graduated at Hazel Green Academy including book-keeping, short-hand, type-writing. Some firm needing a reliable, moral young man should confer with him. Three other brothers and sisters were in the Academy. There are 5 others at home. In all Mr. Rose has 15 children—11 by his present wife.

We were walking through the country between stations and dropped in and tarried till after dinner. His father, whom we knew in childhood, owned about 20,000 acres of heavily timbered land, which was divided between his 11 children.

The writer left Hazel Green after attending the Academy Commencement. There were 5 graduates in Academic course and a large class in other departments. The exercises were up to the usual high standard, although the attendance of visitors was smaller, evidently on account of rains and bad roads. The principal, Rev. Berthick, will be assisted next year by the same corps of teachers. The year's work was very favorably reported.

Shames Miller, Bledsoe and Hagerman, of Louisville, were there, representing the C. W. B. M. auxiliaries. They were much pleased with the town and the work of the academy and the prospects for future usefulness. Mrs. Bledsoe met for the first time the little boy whom she and her husband are educating.

The academy at Morehead and Hazel Green have accomplished great things for Eastern Kentucky and are a lasting monument to the C. W. B. M.

THE ROAD.

The distance from Helechwana, the railroad station, to Hazel Green is about 5 miles. Daily connect these places.

Passengers are fortunate if they escape being injured or "scared half to death." Part of the road is fairly safe. The writer has never seen the other part so dangerous. If authority is vested in the County Judge or other officials to keep the roads in passable condition, he or they should at once see that the work is done. That road is a serious reflection upon the county, its officials and people. We are not severe upon those responsible. If they have not passed over the way recently they should do so before the week closes. These dangerous holes should be drained and filled with brush and rocks. Streams of water should be turned out of the road. Of course this will require time and money. We know that the many the wagons are largely responsible.

Wagons which run between Canal City, Caney and beyond should, for self protection and economy, land slate from the mine dump and fill to overflowing the great depressions. We are, we think, doing a kindness to our friends—the officials by calling attention to these roads.

MAT SLOAN SHOT.

At Lee City on Saturday morning Pete Stricklin shot and seriously wounded Mat Sloan, a noted law breaker. The writer passed through town a few hours after the shooting. It is said that five or six pistol balls passed through his body. Sloan was living when we were there, although the reports to the daily papers said he was killed. Perhaps the reporter thought he ought to have been killed. In other years we have in private talks tried to direct Sloan into the right way, but the temptations to sin have lured him to his ruin. He was a few weeks ago paroled from the penitentiary. Again he went into sin. To avenge a wrong done to his sister Ficklin shot him. Sloan was a married man. The wages of sin is death.

Heavy rain covered a large section of Breathitt, Lee and Wolfe counties on Saturday. The L. & E. train was stopped 21 miles beyond Torrent. High water and drift wood struck a trestle about 90 feet by 400 feet and so moved sections of the trestle that trains could not pass over. Passengers and baggage on trains each way were transferred and the west bound reached Winchester three hours late. Reports tell of heavy rains over large part of State.

The editor replied, "You are right, and the minister who will at all times tell the bare truth about his members, alive or dead, will not occupy the pulpit more than one Sunday, and he will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry. The press and the pulpit go hand in hand with white wash brushes and kind words, magnifying little virtues into big ones. The pulpit, press and gravestone are the great saint-making triumvirate." And the minister went away looking very thoughtful, while the editor turned to his work, telling about the surpassing beauty of the bride, while in fact, she was as ugly as a mud fence.

As there is no place provided where people who apply for a night's lodging can sleep, the police allow those who wish to go to sleep in the big cell room. While the man was locked up a tramp came in and discovered he had lost his pipe.

"I haven't a cent to buy another one and I have been begging tobacco for three days," said the tramp. An hour later the man who was arrested was released on bond. He returned soon after with a new pipe and a sack of tobacco.

"Can I see that tramp in jail?" asked.

"What do you want to see him for?" said the sergeant. "Well, he has lost his pipe and 'nobody's sent to get a new one. So I thought I would give him one."

"I'll take it down to him," said the sergeant, as he reached for the jail key. "Well, I have heard the preachers say that a cup of water to them in jail was a Christian act, or something like that," said the tramp, when he found the pipe and tobacco, "but I tell you the fellow what got his pipe stolen far from a Christian if his clothes were all dirty."

AN UNCONSCIOUS KNOCK.

Miss Ellen Beach Yaw, the singer, one day in the month, as of south in California saw two deer at which two sportsmen were taking aim. Miss Yaw gave a loud shout, and the deer, frightened, made off, and thus their lives were saved by the 1-and-hundred young woman.

A friend of Miss Yaw's, a Cincinnati, after recounting this incident, said the other day:

"Let me tell you another story about her. When she was a little girl she visited a lady who gave her a family photograph album. To look at. She turned the leaves quickly, and in a few minutes closed the book.

"Don't you like it, dear?" the lady asked.

"Yes, very much," said the little girl, politely. "We've got one at home," she added, "but the pictures are prettier."

PERSIAN CLEANLINESS.

We are bound to like the Persian for his personal cleanliness. He will wash. He is the most hospitable man on earth—always with the expectation of presents. He is either monotonously mild or violently quarrelsome. He loves the fair sex and is not averse to wine. He is commonly fat, with black hair, a high forehead, rufous nose, full cheeks and a large chin, the form of the countenance being oval. He is generally strong and robust and addicted to martial exercises. He rises with the sun, and having dressed takes a cup of coffee, with some fruit. At 11 o'clock he eats breakfast, and between nine and ten p. m. dines on the fat of the land. Rice is always the pivot of resistance. He boils his meat to death, but enlarges the meal with numerous vegetables, fruits, sweet cakes, hard boiled eggs and ices.

Visit Our Re-Building Sale

Crowds of people center naturally to this profitable sphere, for this is entirely different from any sale event we ever held. Our highest aims have made this the greatest saying occasion ever experienced. It stimulates one to fresh attempts at saving—it gives fresh insight along true lines of economy.

We intend to newly fit up the entire rear of our store to add 7,000 feet of selling space—to pull out the entire back of the building. It will be dusty time and the dust will ruin goods—so we intend to close them out at any old price—BETTER THAN A TOTAL PRICE LOST.

It is easy to see at a glance that the goods have character, not stuff bought in to make a sale with—but just our own usual good grade of goods, and at prices hitherto unequalled to lowness. If you have any taste for money saving—we repeat—COME!

The Coney Island United Shows.

ONE OF THE FUN MAKERS AT THE A. O. U. W. CARNIVAL NEXT WEEK.

Henry J. Freeman, representative, states the Coney Island United Shows consist of a number of clean, refined, moral entertainments that are a credit to their class. The manager, A. T. Wright, guarantees that every attraction is conducted by ladies and gentlemen, artists of ability.

The Old Plantation Minstrels is a laughable colored minstrel show with its End men, Buck and Wing Dancers, etc.
 CREATION, the feature attraction, is a reproduction of the one at St. Louis in miniature.
 LEWIS' BIG SNAKES are the largest on earth, being 27 feet in length. The Thaw-White tragedy is realistic to a degree. Hopp, the atrophied man, is a strange curiosity. The Congress of International Dancers is a clean, burlesque show. The Ferris Wheel and Penny Arcade will also be there. It is a benefit performance for Hinkston Lodge No. 87, A. O. U. W., and lasts all week at the old show grounds.

It will pay people to come for miles to attend the great reduction sale of fine patterns and street hats beginning Thursday at Mrs. H. C. Greenwade's.

CHANGE IT IN THE BILL.

"Doctor," said a shrewd looking man, "how many feet of gas does it take to kill a man?"
 "That's a queer question," replied the doctor. "Why do you wish to know?"
 "One of the guests at my hotel used enough of it to kill himself and I want to send in a proper bill to his executors."

YOU NEVER CAN TELL.

"Well," remarked the amateur student of human nature, "you can be pretty sure that the woman who doesn't gush over a pretty baby is a confirmed old maid."
 "Not at all," replied the wise man. "She may be a mother who has a baby she thinks is prettier."

GOOD PHILOSOPHY.

The pitcher had gone to the well for the last time.
 "And yet," he remarked to himself, "I can claim as much credit as lots of men. I was nearly always full before I was broke."
 And he went his way in piece.—Toledo Blade.

WITH THE MULE BEHIND IT.

Dubley—Here's a joke for you "Hard luck—A horse shoe." See? Scribbles—Huh! it's hard luck! I wasn't a mule shoe when that joke struck you.

ALL HIS OWN.

"Yes," said Woody, "this is my coat-of-arms."
 "By the way," remarked Gaddie, "do you know that Snerwell has been telling everybody that it's not really your coat-of-arms at all?"
 "The idea! Why, I designed it myself."

WE'RE PROUD OF THE PURINA BRAND

Purina Chick Feed is the ideal feed for raising the little chicks. Being Miller, and owning large flocks, we are in position to make the best chick feed on the market. Purina Scratch Feed contains the greatest variety of grains and selected seeds. Purina Alfalfa Meal gives a green feed the year round. Purina Mash makes hens lay, and Purina Fattening Feed puts on the finishing touches.

Don't fool yourself by trying to feed your chickens with some inferior feed because they won't thrive on it or lay eggs, and they'll fool you on results.
